EMERGENCY CLAUSE

Wanted By Governor Folk For Anti-Racing Bill In Missouri
To Head Off Meeting.

In accordance with the call of Governor Folk, the Legislature of the State of Missouri came together in extra session April 8. The specific subjects named in the call are: To enact such legislation as may be necessary to provide for the regulation of the rates of public corporations; to provide legislative enactments for the enforcement of the dramshop laws throughout the State; to provide for the removal of derelict officials; to provide for enactment with an emergency clause for the suppression of race track gambling.

Governor Folk's anti-race track recommendation in his proclamation calling a special session of the Legislature is thought to be due to intimations he received that an attempt will be made to resume racing in St. Louis county before the amended anti-racing law introduced by Senator W. Ely goes into effect, about the middle of June. An emergency clause is all that the Governor considers lacking in this amendment.

Defeat in a righteous cause should stimulate men to more heroic work.

Dark Page In Kentucky History.

We clip the following from the Lexington Herald:

We are exceedingly glad Governor Beckham has offered rewards for the detection and conviction of the criminals who have disgraced Kentucky by their action in destroying tobacco beds, burning the lives of the growers, handlers and purchasers of tobacco in Southwestern Kentucky. There is no more disgraceful chapter in Kentucky's history than the record of these outrages during the past six months and the failure of the officials to bring punishment to a single one of those who are responsible. Bad as were the tollgate raids and evil as their effect was upon Kentucky's reputation, they were not so bad as the recent outrages of "the night riders," in Western Kentucky.

McClintock Gets Damages.

In the Bourbon Circuit Court, the jury in the trial of the celebrated McClintock damage suit against Secretary Wyatt A. Thomson, Morin Moore, A. B. Thomson, J. W. Larkin, H. C. Smith, H. S. Clay and Clarence Huff, members of the Bourbon Republican County Committee, returned a verdict of $1,500 against each of them, or an aggregate of $10,500.

COWS CONDEMNED.

TWENTY-THREE OF FINE DAIRY
HERD OF W. B. HAWKINS TO BE KILLED.

As a result of the examinations of the fine dairy herd of W. B. Hawkins, near Lexington, twenty-three of the cows had been found to be affected with tuberculosis. Mr. Hawkins accepted this hardship and immediately arranged to have them killed.

At the invitation of Mr. Hawkins a Leader reporter visited the dairy farm Monday morning. In the herd there are forty-six splendid looking cows. The sound cows and the condemned ones were separated in two different pastures.

Mr. Hawkins said:
"Three years ago I had my dairy cows tested for tuberculosis and not one was found in an unsound condition.

"These cows are as healthy looking as any in the herd and would sell for an average of $800 per head. I have been advised by some of my friends to submit them to another test, but I have confidence in the veterinary, Dr. D. A. Platt, who did the work, and rather than take the chances I have ordered the cows killed and their carcasses buried."

LATER—After killing two cows and having found no trace of disease in second cow, the killing was stopped.

$31,000 Fine for New York Herald.

Judge Hough in New York imposed fines aggregating $31,000 against the New York Herald Publishing Company.

The fines, which were immediately paid, were imposed as a result of pleas of guilty interposed to indictments charging the employment of the United States mails for improper purposes.

The indictments were based upon certain "personal" advertisements which were held to be of an obscene and lewd character.

Editor's Mistake.

A Missouri woman is suing an editor because he said in an obituary that her husband had gone to a happier home. It never pays for an editor to say what he thinks when writing an obituary. —Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.

T. H. CLAY DEAD.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE CARRIES AWAY GRANDSON OF THE
"GREAT COMMONER."

Thomas H. Clay died at his residence in Lexington, April 9, of Bright's disease.

Mr. Clay was 64 years old, and for many years was one of the editors of the Youth's Companion, in Boston.

SKETCH OF MR. CLAY'S LIFE.

He was the second son of Thomas Hart Clay and the grandson of Henry Clay, the "Great Commoner." He was born at Ashland, the home of his illustrious grandfather, March 15, 1843, and was therefore 64 years old.

Whisky Blends Must Bear the Correct Labels.

The long expected opinion of Attorney General Bonaparte concerning the proper labeling of whisky under the pure food law, approved June 30, 1906, was made public at the White House. Its purpose is briefly told by the President to the Secretary of Agriculture.

PROPER LABELING OF WHISKIES.

"Straight whisky shall be labeled as such.

"A mixture of two or more straight whiskies will be labeled 'blended whisky or whiskies.'"

"A mixture of straight whisky and ethyl alcohol, provided there is a sufficient amount of straight whisky to make it genuinely a 'mixture' will be labeled as a compound of, or compounded with pure grain distillate.

"Imitation whisky shall be labeled as such.

THE HOME PRINTED PAPER.

Its Importance to the Community Cannot be Overestimated.

The local home printed newspaper, if conducted on proper lines, is the best friend and most necessary institution local business men can have. Such a newspaper is ever ready to advance home interests, and the advancement of home interests is of vital importance to local business men.

It is evident, then, that a home printed newspaper, unbiased and impartial, is the friend of the business men of the town. These are facts that must be admitted if given a moment's thought. Business men may have their personal likes and dislikes for the publisher himself, but the paper should have their good will and encouragement at all times. It is necessary to the success of not only the paper, but to the town and business men.

It should not be necessary for the publisher to lie awake at nights to watch business to keep it from going away from town. Very little job printing has been done outside of West Alexandria since the present publisher located here, but some of it had to be watched or it would have been sent away.

No business man has a vestige of argument to put to the mail order patron if he himself sends job printing away from a home printed newspaper. Every time a job of printing is sent away from home the local paper is being antagonized. We ask, can business men afford to antagonize an unbiased home printed paper got out along the lines now used by the Echo? We do not threaten to become antagonistic in return, but we do call the attention of the business men to their duty in this regard and ask them to be considerate. In fact, follow the Golden Rule. Your home printed paper will never antagonize the interests of the community in which he is located. If our business men want a newspaper as good as the best in the county, now is the time to give it encouragement. We promise to do our part. —West Alexandria (O.) Echo.

Is it not strange that men who are regarded as followers of the Christ will ally themselves with the workers and works of iniquity?

"REMEMBER THE MAINE!"

The Wreck Still An Eyesore In The Harbor of Havana.

The wreck of the battle ship Maine still protrudes above the water in the busiest part of the harbor of Havana, and is not only an eyesore but an obstruction to navigation and a grievous reminder of one of the most lamentable tragedies in history. It has remained in that way for nine years up to the 16th of February, and although two contracts for its removal have been made, neither has been carried out, and it must remain until the government of the United States removes it, because the Cubans have neither the skill nor the enterprise nor the facilities for doing so. The wreck lies in six fathoms of water and has gradually settled into the mud and fill which has accumulated on the bottom of the bay from the sewage of nearly four centuries. No accident has yet happened, but the wreck is a continual peril to navigation.

Both contractors claim that they could have removed the wreck if the Navy Department at Washington had not forbidden them to use dynamite. The bodies of about 100 sailors are still in the hull, and, while they cannot be recovered after an immersion of nine years, the naval officials will not allow them to be blown to fragments.

The Maine was 324 feet long. The personnel was twenty-six officers and 328 men, of whom 267 were killed and only nineteen escaped injury. About 150 of the dead were originally buried in the old cemetery in Havana.

Roosevelt Appoints Ohio Negro to Office.

The President appointed Ralph W. Tyler, a negro, of Columbus, O., to be Auditor of the Treasury for the Navy Department. Tyler had been considered by the President for a Federal position in Ohio, particularly that of Surveyor of Customs at Cincinnati.

False Registration.

In the Paris local option contest many persons were charged with false registration. The result was: 25 names were stricken from list; 25 were marked doubtful; 59 were declared legal voters.

Foraker has it in for President Roosevelt and does not propose to be bossed by him, neither does he propose that the Nation shall give heed to his suggestions. Who is boss, Foraker or Roosevelt? It reads like this: Foraker will sink and carry the party with him before he will yield the veritable boss scepter to another.

The Republicans seem to be casting about that they may name a ticket satisfactory to both saloon and anti-saloon elements. Mixed drinks this would be. Would the temperance advocates accept it? Those of a Republican cross are not very particular so long as they can oppose Democracy. We know the hope of success to the Republicans is based on Democratic opposition to the saloon influence and that of sore-head ex-officers, but the people are for Democracy and the closed saloon. We will have both.

The leader of Democracy, W. J. Bryan, for the present, as he understands conditions and Roosevelt's theories and methods, does not see his way clear to nominate the president for a Democratic nominee, being of the opinion the candidate should come from the south. At this juncture in political affairs there exists a critical period and it is up to the people to name an immortal Moses. The farmers, the laborers, the professionals, the manufacturers, all are subject to the money powers, or at least they think so, which is just as bad. The move must come from the Democratic side. What shall it be?

TO THE TOMBS.

Harry Thaw, the murderer of Stanford White, has been returned to the toms to wait the time of a second trial. This was as hard a fought battle between legal giants as has ever taken place on this continent and as free from bitterness. Thaw, though a millionaire, has been taught a lesson and the whole of earth's population as well. Sin is awful. Murder will out and money will not under all circumstances purchase freedom from the clutches of the law. With the evidence brought out in this case we are of the opinion White deserved death, but only by legal process, and Thaw, assuming the enforcement of the unwritten law, disposed of White, but brought trouble and grief to him and his,

Grand Jury's Report to the Circuit Court.

To the Hon. A. W. Young, Judge of the Montgomery Circuit Court:

We, the Grand Jury of Montgomery County for the April term of the Montgomery Circuit Court, 1907, would respectfully report to you as follows:

That we began our sittings on April 8th, 1907, and have been in session six days; we have investigated numerous cases brought to our attention of violations of the law and have returned 29 indictments; that we have had under consideration different offices and officers of the county, the public turnpikes, County Jail, Court-house, school-houses and school trustees of the county. Upon a careful and complete investigation of the turnpikes of the county we find them in a deplorable condition, causing much unfavorable comment. The pikes have been allowed to deteriorate from criminal neglect and injudicious methods in vogue heretofore for the keeping and repairing of same, but we find that the Fiscal Court, now composed and the Supervisors of public roads are in no way to be held responsible for the present condition of the said roads; we find that during the last year much repairing has been done on the pikes and that the said repairs have been judiciously made, and we commend the present Fiscal Court for the efforts that are now being made in the right direction; we recommend that all money in the hands of the Treasurer at present which was levied for turnpike purposes for the present year be spent for the repairing of said pikes.

And while we commend the Supervisor of roads of the county for doing all that was possible for the public highways of the county with the funds allowed him for such disposal, we caution him to be careful of the funds directed to the repair of roads and see to it that all claims made against the county for material furnished and work done are just and reasonable. We have inquired into the condition of the public school-houses of the county and find them to be in a reasonably fair condition, or are being put in such condition. We find that many of the trustees of the schools are careless of some of the duties imposed upon them by law, performing only such duties as are necessary to keep the schools alive in their districts. We find that the records of the Superintendent of Public Schools are well kept, so far as the present Superintendent is concerned. We report that we have examined the office of the County Court Clerk and find the records well kept, properly indexed and legible. That the vault of said office has been repaired in accordance with the suggestions of the former Grand Jury, insuring the safety of the records from fire or invasion, that the clerical force of said office is efficient and courteous, that the office is neat, orderly and presents an inviting appearance. We find that the vault of the Circuit Court Clerk's office is also provided with steel shutters for the protection of the records therein, that the records and papers are properly indexed and filed. We discovered that some of the papers of that office were mutilated by mice but the Clerk is making an effort to rid the office of them.

We find that the Jail is safe for the custody of prisoners, well kept and in sanitary condition, the prisoners are properly cared for and fed, however we found that one of the prisoners recently ordered to jail by this Court was not imprisoned in said jail.

We find that the Court-house in the main is being reasonably well kept, except the water closets which we especially condemn as being filthy and unsanitary.

All of which we respectfully submit.

D. G. HOWELL, Foreman.

THE VICTOR.

This popular young combined stallion will make the season of 1907 at my stable 15 miles southeast of Mt. Sterling on Camargo pike (farm opposite school house) At $10 to insure a living Colt. Money due when colt is foaled, mark part with or bred elsewhere without consent.

THE VICTOR is a rich sorrel with one white point, five years old this June, full 16 hands, weight 1250 pounds, possessing the bone and muscle so much needed especially in our brood mares.

Sire Electrician, race record 2:24 1/2, sold at $15,000, many times winner in harness show rings with but a single defeat, being then lame.

First dam Daisy, by Senator Blackburn the most popular saddle stallion of his county in his day, and justly so, having taken premiums at Richmond (16 entries), Paris, Sharpsburg and Germantown, and at Chicago, where he defeated the pick of the land, 32 horses making this show.

His colts sold high. Two yearlings sold at $600 and $500 each; an unbeaten 3-year-old stallion, $1500; a gelding selling in New York for $2,250, also the dam of a $2,000 gelding. Second dam Lady Gay by John Noddy, his dam by Grey Eagle. Third dam Nannie, a Drennon mare. The first three dams here were splendid saddle mares and fine breeders. Lady Gay produced two colts that sold for $700, while Nannie, the 3rd dam, produced a premium colt at the Roscoe colt show some years ago.

THE VICTOR is not only a fine harness horse but quite a saddle horse as well, having a good walk, a very bold rapid rack and trot. Can show close to 3 minutes at each gait. That his colts are the right kind his patrons will testify, several mares having foals by The Victor whose owners declare them better than any previous colts where the fee was $15 to $20. His perfect disposition, style, action and fine form recommend him to any one. Six counties sent mares to him in 1906.

BRAMBLETT.

Also at the same time, place and terms, this noted male Jack will stand at $8.00 to insure a living foal.

BRAMBLETT has fine head and ear, good, smooth bone and big foot. His sire, a Spanish jack, sold for $2000. His weanling colts sell from $75 to $115, the latter price being the highest price in this county last year, proving him at least the equal of any male jack. Several of his mules have sold at $200. The fees charged here are as low as is possible to obtain a profit.

Grass and attention for mares from a distance at $2 per month. Your patronage respectfully solicited. Address

Indictments in some of the above convictions were returned at this term of court. Other indictments will be made known later.

TEN GOOD REASONS Why You Should Place Your Insurance With "HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY"

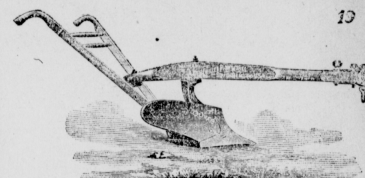

- 1 It's the oldest Agency in Eastern and Central Kentucky (1847.)
- 2 Has the largest number of Companies (17.)
- 3 Has had more experience (60 years.)
- 4 There is not a change in the firm at every "change of the moon." It's the same now as when started in 1847—"HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY."
- 5 Has the most efficient help of any agency in the State (outside of Louisville), and only one agency there ahead of us. Two Stenographers, Policywriter, Cashier, Special Agent, Manager Fire, and Manager Life and Accident Department.
- 6 It is the largest agency, not only in Mt. Sterling, but in Eastern and Central Kentucky. Its business is more than that of all other agencies in Mt. Sterling combined.
- 7 All property is personally inspected at issuing of policy and at the time of a fire the loss always receives prompt, personal and careful attention.
- 8 We have, as yet, to find a dissatisfied customer. Our customers are our friends, and our friends are our customers. "A satisfied customer is our best advertisement."
- 9 A man can get every kind of Insurance right here in one agency—doesn't have to place portions of his business through every "Tom, Dick and Harry." We write Fire, Life, Accident, Health, Plate Glass, Liability, Steam Boiler, Live Stock (a new department) Bonds—in fact, every kind of existing insurance.
- 10 Because we are the most experienced agents, have made Insurance a study, and that when HOFFMAN is stamped on a policy it's known that it is as right as right can be.

Are you satisfied that your insurance is where you want it? Wouldn't you feel safer if it was placed where you need have no fear should an accident occur? Suppose you drop in and get our rates before insuring or renewing elsewhere.

SATURDAY

Marked the first day of spring selling in Men's Clothes, and it was spirited. The day before Easter is always a good indication as to which way the trade winds blow. From the opening of our doors Saturday morning until closing time Saturday night our store was crowded with buyers. Hundreds of STEIN-BLOCH and HAMBURGER SUITS were in evidence Sunday on the backs of well-dressed men, and it was no trouble to tell them. The individuality in the style, cut and character of these goods, coupled with an exclusiveness in fabrics, sets them apart from the sameness that characterizes the cheap tailors or inferior ready-made.

Men of good taste are quick to recognize the elegant workmanship, the newness of style and the care given to detail in make of these clothes, to say nothing of the difference in price as compared to the first-class tailors.

We want every lover of good clothes to come here some time this week, or if not this week as soon as possible, to see the complete line before the sizes are broken that we may serve you in the best possible manner and give you the exact fitting that is due every customer that enters our store.

Read the descriptions of styles, take advantage of the store at your doors that is promoting the interests of the town by giving an assortment in their line second to none in the State.

JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES

Georgian Editor Wants Bryan to Present Name of Roosevelt.

Declares It Is No Time to Change Leaders in the Battle For Rights of the People.

PRaises COURAGE IN FIGHTING TRUSTS.

Bryan Replies "As at Present Advised" Will Not Adopt Suggestion.

Editor John Temple Graves' suggestion that Mr. Bryan nominate Roosevelt for President in the next Democratic National Convention which the Georgia editor finally presented in a speech to the Bryan banquet, was denied utterance for a time.

John Tomlinson, of Birmingham, one of the speakers and the toastmaster, met Graves on his arrival from Atlanta, and requested the omission of the reference to President Roosevelt, arguing its impropriety in view of Mr. Bryan's presence at the banquet.

Mr. Graves declined to alter his views or subject his speech to censorship. Later, at the request of Mr. Bryan, to the committee, Mr. Graves after leaving for his train, was induced to return and made his speech advocating the nomination of Roosevelt for a third term by the Democrats. It was after 11 o'clock when Mr. Graves began his address.

LETTER TO CLUB PRESIDENT.

After he had been denied the privilege of speaking, the editor of the Georgian addressed a letter to the president of the Bryan Anniversary Club as follows:

"Hon. F. A. Hood, President of Bryan Anniversary Club, Chattanooga, Tenn.
"Dear Sir—I came to Chattanooga, yielding to no one in my profound and affectionate regard for Mr. Bryan and for the Democratic party and its principles.

"In the course of my speech I tried to make that plain in as warm and glowing terms as my heart could fashion. I am profoundly convinced that in this period of tremendous economic crisis the only man who can carry to successful conclusion the reforms instituted in behalf of the people is the man who is already entrenched in power and the prestige of dauntless courage and conspicuous success in the executive office.

TIED TO GIVE CONVICTIONS.

"I have endeavored in my speech to give my convictions and these convictions are so earnest and sincere that I cannot change them unless better reasons are given than have been presented to me up to the present time.

"My reasons for stating these convictions at the Bryan banquet with Mr. Bryan present was because I considered it the manly and democratic thing to do.

"The time to voice a sentiment so momentous to life, to prosperity and to the realization of best ideals of real democracy is in the presence of our great and shining leader who would be there to comment, to approve or condemn, with the full force of his influence and eloquence as he might see fit.

SEEKING NO FAVORS.

"If I had made this speech in the North and with a mixed audience present, it would have carried a suggestion or trucking or the appearance of seeking favors where the other party was stronger than my own.

"It appears to me that the only fair and honest thing to do was to speak my convictions in full coun-of utterance, and since I am the guest of the committee, I must yield full obedience to their wishes in the matter. It is my misfortune to have been misconstrued the occasion, as to find a Bryan ratification meeting, where I came to attend a free and serious party deliberation.

RELEASES SPEECH ANYHOW.

"There seems nothing left me then save to withhold the speech from the Bryan banquet although I cannot consistently ask the newspapers to which it has already been given to refrain from such use as they may see fit to make it.

"Of course, this is only an individual opinion, submitted to the judgment of my party. I do not need to say that if Mr. Bryan be nominated, in the wisdom of the Democratic party, as our next candidate for President, that I shall give him my whole-hearted, unqualified and enthusiastic support.

"I thank the committee most cordially for the courtesy of their investigation, and, regretting to find myself at variance with that portion of the club who have charge of the program, I most sincerely wish them a joyous evening and profitable discussion of the great issues of independence to the party and to the people.

"Very sincerely,

"JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES."

Winchester, Ky., April 10, 1907. To Each County Chairman:

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Executive Committee held in Lexington, Ky., on Thursday, April 4, 1907, the following being present, C. S. Williams, S. T. Prewitt, E. B. Thomas, J. R. Bascom, G. W. McMillen and C. LeBus, it was unanimously agreed that a full Board meeting be called to meet in Lexington, Wednesday, April 24, at 9 a. m., at the Phoenix Hotel, being the day before the Barbecue, so that we will get through in time to attend the Barbecue.

You must work every day and insist that each precinct chairman put in every possible minute toward securing the 1907 pledges; and, if you have a precinct chairman who is not pulling as he should, get someone else to canvas his precinct and report it accordingly to the full Board meeting.

Be sure and call in all your pledges and have them copied in book form, and bring the pledges and book to Lexington, April 24, next.

By that time we must know how much 1907 tobacco is signed and who and what county will make the worst showing.

Work with pride. Work hard. Work tomorrow. Work until April 24 and make the best showing.

C. LeBus, Pres. Burley Tobacco Society.

Andy Todd 2:25.

This stallion will make a short season closing June 1, when he goes in training at Maple Hill Stock Farm one mile west of Mt. Sterling, at $10.00 Cash, with turn privileges.

ANDY TODD is a bay, 16 hands high, with good style, fine disposition, and a better sure. In breeding his blood lines are the best. Tabulated pedigree furnished on application. In breeding to his horse you can expect to get not only size and style but speed. That sort brings money whether for racing or road horses.

If your mare has a young colt or we can likely arrange to send horse to your farm. It is seldom you have the opportunity to breed to such a horse at so low fee. 40-2t

$10 to Insure a Living Colt.

DESCRIPTION. MONTGOMERY REX is a beautiful bay, sixteen hands high, hind feet white, three years old this spring, black legs, bay black mane and tail. Carries his tail to perfection, is a case of great natural style, and as to knee and lock action he is without a peer. He goes all the Kentucky saddle gait to perfection, either slow or fast, and shows considerable speed in his trot in business. We commend him to all for his unusual intelligence and kindness of nature. Montgomery Rex's chances for a place of high type in the minds of the breeding public is unquestionable. See him before making your choice.

BLACK KING.

A very promising youngster, 8 years old, will be permitted to serve just a few choice mares at the low price of $10.

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE. Black King is 15½ hands high, has all the attributes of a show horse, is natural in his color at the colts. His breeding is practically the same as Montgomery Rex, being sired by McDonald Chief and first dam by Woodford's Miss Jeanie.

At the same time and place will be found

KING EDWARD.

$8 to Insure. the famous mule jack recognized as being the greatest breeder of high-class mules in the country. In the fall of 1897, seven of his colts at weaning time sold for $750. John Cockerill, in fall of 1902, sold a colt by King for $850 in 1902, one of the best I ever saw. W. H. Wyatt delivered to Judge Asperman a full mare mare for $400, one of a mare 14½ hands high. Last fall, Lewis Pickles was offered $100 for a colt by King Edward but it had previously been engaged by Mr. White for $85. The majority of his colts sold above $75 last year.

Statement of his former owner: I grew up in the stock business—my father being in that business all his life. I never knew a better breeder or one so sure.

W. S. LLOYD

PATTED ON THE BACK BY UNCLE SAM.

His Organization Was Four Years Ahead of the Pure Food Law.

Mr. Lloyd Was Actively Identified With the United Drug Company, Makers of Rexall Remedies, Which Has Been More Than Complying With the New Law, Even Before It Was Thought of in Congress.

The widespread interest in the Pure Food Law, which went into effect January 1, has reached apparently every class in the community. The grocers, the butchers, even the candlestick makers, are compelled now by Uncle Sam to take the people into their confidence and tell them just what they are selling. Uncle Sam has left very little to chance. The strong arm of the Washington Government has compelled manufacturers to state plainly on their labels what adulterants have been used in preparing the package.

Perhaps no other class of manufacturers has been more deeply stirred than the makers of "patent medicines." They are now compelled by law to state on their labels the names of dangerous drugs used in the preparation of their remedies. Like all laws that work for the benefit of the public, the Pure Food Law has made some manufacturers do some lively squirming; while it has brought joy to the hearts of those who were giving the people a square deal.

Mr. Lloyd, the well known druggist, in discussing this point with our reporter, made some comments so interesting that they are reproduced here for the benefit of our readers.

"There's a good deal of satisfaction in knowing you've done right," said Mr. Lloyd, "but there's much more in having that fact RECOGNIZED."

"Four years ago we were one of the thousand leading druggists who met together to discuss the patent medicine situation. All of us expressed dissatisfaction at having to sell remedies whose formulas were unknown to us. As servants of the public, of course, we sold whatever our trade called for. But we wanted to be able to sell our customers at least ONE line of patent medicines whose formulas we KNEW, and THEY knew remedies whose reliability and efficiency we could back up with our own names and reputations."

"The Rexall Remedies were the outcome of that meeting, and our cooperative company, the United Drug Company, was formed to manufacture them."

NO CURE-ALLS IN REXALL PLAN.

"No 'cure-alls,' no secret formulas—just 100 remedies, each the most successful and safest cure known to the medical world for a specific human ail, and every formula known to every Rexall druggist and his customers—THAT was the Rexall plan from the beginning."

"The great success of Rexall Remedies has been no surprise to us. They are the BEST cures, and they're sold in the SQUAREST way. Every Rexall Remedy is sold with the understanding that the customer, if dissatisfied, will get the purchase money back by simply returning the empty package or bottle—and we have always lived up to this guarantee!"

"The agitation against 'secret formula' patent medicines during the past two years has never affected Rexall Remedies in the least, because their formulas were NEVER SECRET—and everybody knew it!"

UNCLE SAM ADOPTS THE REXALL PLAN.

"The United States Government has at last come around to our way of thinking, and passed a Pure Food and Drug Law. But we didn't need the Government to push us to tell what is in our remedies—we thought people ought to know that four years ago!"

"Even the Pure Food Law does not compel other patent medicine manufacturers to tell you as much about their preparations as we voluntarily tell you about Rexall Remedies, and always have. Only the dangerous drugs in other patent medicines are revealed—the rest of their ingredients are still kept secret from you. You know EVERYTHING that goes into Rexall Remedies their COMPLETE FORMULAS have always been open to the public.

"We, like all the other Rexall druggists, have always had the formulas of the 300 Rexall Remedies in our possession, and have given them to thousands of our customers."

"Don't you think we have reason to be proud of our connection with Rexall Remedies? Don't you think YOU have reason to put faith in them?"

The complete count of the votes cast in Detroit at the recent election shows that the proposition to accept $750,000 from Andrew Carnegie for a library was defeated by fewer than 100 votes.

Doan's Ointment has soothed hundreds.

Here's what one Mt. Sterling citizen says:

T. A. Garrison, farmer, living one mile west from town on the Grassy Lake pike, says: "When I state that Doan's Ointment is the best remedy for healing and allaying irritation that I ever came across I know what I am talking about and I base my opinion on the following: For a number of weeks I was greatly troubled with a bad sore on the back of one of my hands. It was caused from a bruise and so painful was it at times that I could scarcely use my hands. In spite of all I could do and the use of numerous salves, ointments and everything that I could hear of, the irritation only became worse and kept gradually spreading. Doan's Ointment was brought to my attention and I procured a box at F. C. Duerson's drug store. I had but little faith in it, but after one or two applications I noticed the inflammation being reduced and it was only a short time before the trouble was entirely removed."

Bill Nye's Cow Advertisement.

Bill Nye, the humorist, once had a cow to sell, the story goes, and advertised her as follows: "Owing to my ill health, I will sell at my residence in township 19, range 18, according to the government survey, one plump raspberry cow, aged eight years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay chain, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double barrel shotgun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a non-resident." Batten's Wedge.

The Demon of Worry.

Worry is one of the most fatal of all transgressions. It is a sin against not one organ of the body, but against the body as a whole. It is a demon whose pressure is felt upon the heart, and there is not a capillary in any gland or tissue that does not shrink under the glance of its gloomy eyes. A man who worries is slowly draining the springs of life. He not only stunts himself, but he makes it harder for others to grow and blossom. Depression is a vice, and like all vices it must be dealt with firmly and with vigor.

What is the effect of your presence in your home? Does your look fall like a sun beam or a shadow across the breakfast table? Does your conversation lie like a strip of summer sky or a patch of midnight across the family life? Upon what subjects do you speak with largest freedom and keenest relish—your aches and failures, or the things which are beautiful and fine and light? For your own sake and the sake of others you ought to bring your soul into a jubilant mood. All Christian virtues grow best under a sky filled with sun, and the man or woman who persists in being gloomy and sour and moody will have his home filled at last with weeds and brambles and briars.—Dr. C. E. Jefferson in The World's Christmas Tree.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia, comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach permits the food to be properly digested, and the products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not of good red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach action that does it. The body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts from prominent medical authorities on the original ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. B. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for cure, alternative and rebuilding agents. The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle adds full assurance of its non-scholarly character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. Its facts put it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle the name of its discoverer, Dr. R. B. Pierce, The Golden Medical Discovery cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all external affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put out 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Strong and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

WHEN THE FISH BITE BEST.

It is in the latter part of May and in June.

Fish bite best in the latter part of May and in June, according to a writer in the Outer's Book. This is due to their mode of protecting their spawning beds. In midsummer they retire to deeper water during which time fishing is very bad. After the first few cool nights of late summer they may be found again among the weeds or on the shallows. Incidentally, it may be said that any law which permits of fishing before July 1 is little protection to the bass in North lake.

There is little to be said in favor of any particular part of the day. It was never found that the early morning or later afternoon hours were better than midday.

Easterly winds are best. The northeasterly for pickered and southeasterly for bass. While still weather and southeasterly winds are least favorable.

Times of low barometer, and we may conclude, of unsettled weather, are much better for fishing than periods of high barometer. Cloudy weather favors pickered, while clear weather is better for bass. Both kinds considered, there is no choice.

From this it would follow that a good day for fishing would be one with an east wind, low barometer, clouds for pickered and clear if you want bass. Go out late in May or in early June if you want fish and in early September if you are a sportsman, and then start fishing after you have had a good breakfast and read the morning paper, if there is one to be had, and come in at a reasonable time in the evening. Whether or these conditions would repeatedly give us good fishing is the question. The figures shown in my tables could have been obtained only from the fact that good fishing did repeatedly occur under just such conditions and with the opening of another season it would be well to make notes on just this point.

WHAT DID IT MEAN?

A young man who had become much interested in spiritualism was called to the deathbed of a very dear relative.

On the night after her death, when all but the watchers had retired, he began to wonder if the dead one would return.

Just at that minute there were several quick, muffled thumps under the table at which he was writing. He started, paled, and sat rigid. In two seconds a world of thoughts whirled over him. Then the thumpings were repeated, longer and louder. For a moment—which seemed an age—he was beside himself, expecting to see or hear her kneel not what. But nothing further happened.

After a full minute of suspense he gathered all his courage and, bending down, looked under the table. There, on another chair, he discovered the family cat, still on her head, but no longer scratching the table with her foot.—Harper's Weekly.

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they inferior? Is it economy to spoil your digestion?

Alum is used in some baking powders and in most of the so-called phosphate powders, because it is cheap, and makes a cheaper powder. But alum is a corrosive which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

Germ Believed Responsible for Slipping Evil.

On account of the great havoc wrought to the thoroughbred stock farms of Fayette county and other counties of Central Kentucky by the slipping evil, the Department of Animal Husbandry of the Government may be asked to investigate its cause. The latest theory is that the evil is a germ, and that it is a curable disease.

The theory has been advanced by many of the veterinarians that certain foods consumed by the brood mares while in foal produced this slipping, and they have advised the breeders not to feed the mares fodder nor corn, but Dr. Leach, who is an authority on the diseases of horses, declares that it is the atmospheric conditions in which the germ lives and thrives that cause the evil. This evil, Dr. Leach thinks, can be stopped, and must be stopped to save the American breeder hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. On one of the farms in Central Kentucky this season there have been as many as 70 per cent of the mares to slip. This condition not only exists in Central Kentucky, but in every section of America in which the breeding industry is carried on, and it not only affects the thoroughbred mare but it affects the brood mares of all types of horses.

The only infallible guide for men is that made known in God's word.

The Pain Family

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Earache, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unendurable. The way to stop pain is to soothe and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. The whole Pain family yield to their influence. Harmless if taken as directed.

"I find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills an excellent remedy for 'wandering' headache, neuralgia, toothache, etc. I have used them in all sorts of cases, and they have given me the best of results."—J. H. MILES, M.D., New York.
